DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-48 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-13,20 and 25-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson, Jr. (U.S. Patent # 6,819,576) in combination with Divan et al. (U.S. Patent # 6,118,676).

Johnson, Jr. discloses claimed subject matters a power conversion apparatus (figure 2 and 3), including DC link comprising first and second bus (figure 2, item 205a and 205b), a reference bus (figure 2, item GND), first and second DC voltages (figure 2, item V1 and V2), an uninterruptible power supply (Abstract, line 1-5). However Johnson, Jr. does not disclose the utilization of the technique for a pre-charge circuit, a boost converter. Divan et al. teaches the utilization of the similar technique for a pre-charge (column 11, line 60-70+), a boost converter (column 5, line 10-50). It would have been obvious one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Johnson, Jr.'s uninterruptible power supply circuit by utilizing the technique taught by Divan et al. for the purpose of dynamic voltage sag corrector. Further circuit meets the structure requirement.

4. Claims 14-19 and 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson, Jr. (U.S. Patent # 6,819,576) in combination with Divan et al. (U.S. Patent # 6,118,676) and further in combination with Lenk (U.S. Patent # 6,222,352).

Johnson, Jr. in combination with Divan et al. discloses claimed subject matters as explained in the claims 1-13,20 and 25 and 26-39, above, except the utilization of the technique for an inductor, a buck converter. Lenk teaches the utilization of the technique for an inductor and buck converter (figure 1 and Abstract, line 1-5). It would have been obvious one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Johnson, Jr. in combination with Divan et al.'s power supply by utilizing the technique taught by Lenk for the purpose of providing a mechanism for controlling voltage excursions on intermediate DC busses and also improve the power factor of the power supply.

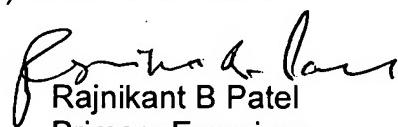

5. For method claims 40-48, note that under MPEP 21 12.02, the principles of inherency, if a prior ad device, in its normal and usual operation, would necessarily perform the method claimed, then the method claimed will be considered to be anticipated by the prior art device. When the prior art device is the same as a device described in the Specification for carrying out the claimed method, it can be assumed the device *11 inherently perform the claimed process. In re King, 801 F.2d 1324, 231 USPQ 136 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Therefore the previous rejections based on the apparatus will not be repeated.
